RAINS BRING RELIEF OVER A WIDE AREA

SNOW IN HIGH SIERRAS WILL HELP IRRIGATION

HEAVY DOWNPOUR FROM OREGON TO LOS ANGELES

Precipitation Heavier in the South; Northern Section Helped.—Benefit to Fruit and Agriculture Reaches Into Millions.

Sacramento.—Rain, which began to fall Saturday afternoon, continued and spread until its borders included all of California from the Oregon line to Los Angeles.

In addition to the rain, a heavy fall of snow was noted in the high Sierra, indicating water for irrigation and power purposes during the summer months.

Los Angeles, where the hills have been brown for weeks, was visited with a sharp and heavy downpour.

Territory adjacent to Los Angeles reported a heavier fall, Glendale receiving 1.17 inches; Pasadena, .93 inch; Ventura and Santa Barbara, 1.85 inches. Riverside, however, received but .20 inch. Thunder and lightning accompanied the storm near the mountains above the southern metropolis, while hail fell at Los Angeles harbor.

The storm in the northern part of the state was gentler and steadier. Sacramento reported a rainfall of but .15 inch for twenty-four hours, but the storm had not passed. Crop conditions in the valley and mountain counties were reported favorable.

Stockton reported sufficient rainfall to bring temporary relief to agriculturists and stockmen, but not enough to save vineyardists and orchardists from the necessity of irrigation.

OBREGON SIGNS DECREE GIVING CAPITALISTS CONCESSIONS

Mexico City.—President Obregon has arranged to obtain a loan of $28,000,000 for Mexico and has signed a decree putting into operation five contracts with American capitalists, as a result of which the loan will be granted. The concessions involved, include operations in planting sugar, beans, tobacco and coffee and certain industrial and shipping enterprises. Local cigaret factories are not affected, but have been offered a chance to sell out to the American interests.

J. Hamilton Lewis, former United States senator, who participated in the negotiations, was present when the decree was signed at the national palace. According to the contracts signed, Mexico gets $10,000,000 on March 1, an equal amount on April 1 and the balance on May 1.

Exiled Princess Dies

Brussels.—Princess Louise of Belgium, who, in the early '90s, tired of life at the Belgium court and of her husband, Prince Philip, eloped with the Count Mattanich, died at Weisbaden. Her husband having divorced her, the count married her and for years they lived in exile. Paris society refused to accept them, fearful of an unforgiving Belgium court. When the count passed away four months ago the princess had not the funds necessary to save him from a pauper's grave. An unnamed American came to the rescue.

Modification Move Started

A bill permitting the manufacture and sale for home consumption of beverages containing not more than 2.75 per cent alcohol by volume was prepared by each of the forty men.

Says Kansas "Backsliding"

Kansas City, Kans.—Kansas, anti-everything for so many years, is helping itself liberally to toddy, Roy Haynes, national prohibition director told an audience of startled Kansans and the nation is laughing politely up its sleeve at Kansas, once the bulwark of prohibition enforcement.

ENGLAND IN PACT PLAN WITH FRANCE

MAC DONALD-POINCARE PARLEY EUROPEAN TROUBLES

AGREEMENT IS SOUGHT IN LETTER EXCHANGE

A Conference On Differences, Debts, Reparations and Arms May Result. MacDonald Known to Be Favorable to Disarmament.

London.—On the initiative of Premier MacDonald, he and Premier Poincare of France have exchanged letters discussing Anglo-French differences, debts, reparations, disarmament and a possible European conference.

It is expected that after the report of the reparations experts has been made, further letters may be exchanged between the British and French premiers, laying the foundation for a personal conference and possibly an ultimate full dress European reparations conference in which the question of allied debts will also be considered.

A disarmament conference which MacDonald is known to favor, may result later, but this depends on the success of the reparations negotiations.

Premier MacDonald in his letter envisages a European debt and reparations agreement, after which Europe could "approach the United States, not as debtors disputing with one another, but as a United Europe, anxious by mutual sacrifice and arrangement to cure the ills from which our people are now suffering."

MacDonald's letter to Poincare began by a frank review of Franco-British differences, pointing out Britain's uneasiness over French aims, first in regard to Germany, secondly, in regard to French armaments, particularly in western France, and thirdly, in regard to the little entente.

He stated that the lack of confidence expressed by public opinion in both countries shows a "thoroughly unhealthy condition," and pointed out that France wants security against Germany, while the British empire wants security against war and emphasized that security was not only a French problem, but a European problem.

MacDonald declared that the question remained to be considered of whether this would be accomplished by the demilitarization and neutralization of certain zones or by other methods. The League of Nations might play an important part, he wrote.

MacDonald pointed out that cooperation throughout all Europe was necessary, but that a Franco-British agreement was necessary first. Declaring that the two powers must await the experts' report before they could discuss reparations.

Colonel Forbes Indicted

Chicago. — Charging bribery and conspiracy, a federal grand jury has indicted Col. Charles R. Forbes, former head of the veterans' bureau, and J. W. Thompson of the Thompson & Black Construction company of Chicago and St. Louis. One indictment charges that Forbes accepted $5,000 to turn over some $12,000,000 worth of remodeling to the Thompson & Black company, ignoring bids from other sources.

Minister Shoots Salesman

Mexico, Mo.—The Rev. Asa Q. Burns shot and seriously wounded H. D. Conger, a traveling salesman of Lincoln, Neb. The minister had just returned from taking a special course at Chicago University. Burns surrendered but refused explanation of the cause of the quarrel. Mrs. Burns and son have been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Henderson. Conger had also been staying with the Hendersons.

British Ships at Malta

London.—Significant political developments in the Mediterranean, notably the union of Italy, Spain and Portugal, has engaged attention of the foreign office and admiralty officials who admit that four capital ships—battleships of the line—and a large number of smaller craft, such as light cruisers and destroyers, are being sent to Malta—the British naval station in the Mediterranean

Liquor Bill Advanced

Washington.—The government's war on rum runners and bootleggers was advanced a step when the house appropriations committee favorably reported a bill providing for the immediate expenditure of $13,850,625 for the expansion of the United States coast guard, involving the purchase of 323 fast motor boast and utilization of twenty naval destroyers to protect coast lines.

HIGH ATHLETES LOSE GOOD FIGHT

Our husky basketeers of the high school were defeated in the final championship game of the P. A. L. last week at San Jose by a score of 28 to 26. This was undoubtedly the most hotly contested game ever played in this division as it was necessary to play extra time periods to settle the dispute the teams being tied both at the close of the scheduled time and the first added time.

So thrilling was the play that the rooter sections were alternately holding their breath and screeching. Breck Reed proved to be the star shot for Campbell until by hook or crook, he was disqualified for personal fouls. But even with this handicap Campbell held her own with the above result. Our point winners were Blaine (10); B. Reed (8); S. Reed (2); Bonaccorso (4); Robinson (2). H. Shelley, husky guard, made no baskets but he did yoeman duty keeping the opponents score down.

DISEASE NOT FATAL TO HUMANS

A great deal of valuable information respecting the Foot-and-Mouth disease has been sent out in bulletins by the College of Agriculture and the U. S. Depot of Agriculture.

The presence of the disease may be determined by several symptoms.

Cattle, sheep swine or goats showing lameness, drolling of saliva or sores on the udders or teats should be reported. Lameness in hogs, especially if several animals are affected, is suspicious since these animals may not show the mouth or teat symptoms.

A sudden decrease in the total milk yield of a dairy herd often accompanies the spread of this disease in the herd.

The recommendation is made that great care is exercised over live stock to prevent the intrusion of stray dogs or other animals, and those in charge should be unusually alert to observe and report any indications of illness, especially those symptoms named.

The statement made in some papers that the disease is often fatal to human beings should be corrected. Altho in rare cases the disease may be transmitted to man, the symptoms are usually too slight to come to the notice of the family physician and fatalities are unknown except rarely in weakened children.

Anyone wishing further information should see Mr. C. E. York of the high school faculty, who has charge of the agricultural work in the school.

ATTENDANCE URGED FOR CLASS GOOD

There will be a short program and plans made for the coming meetings.

FINE ART EXHIBIT AT CAMPBELL MAR 6-8

Three Programs Given by School Children

A most wonderful collection of art will be on exhibition at the Campbell Union Grammar school for three days, March 6, 7, and 8. These pictures are of the masterpieces of painting from the great public art galleries of the world and of the greatest works in architecture, many of the subjects being in color.

This exhibit has aroused much interest among pupils, teachers and general public as over a thousand tickets have been sold. Another very interesting feature of this exhibit is that every person coming or attending any or all the programs will be entitled to vote on five of the pictures which they think would be most appropriate for the school. In many places, schools have secured a large number of pictures by gifts from individuals or organizations. Such gifts would be greatly appreciated. Two twenty-five dollar pictures have already been donated.

Any such gifts will be marked free with a brass tablet the name of donor or the person in whose memory the picture may be given.

KNOLES LECTURE WELL RECEIVED

The audience that gathered in the Community Room Monday evening was favored with a lecture of a calibre not often attainable by a small community. Dr. Tully C. Knoles is a speaker of fine presence and remarkable mentality and the skill to present abstruse and difficult themes so clearly and interestingly that his hearers regret the conclusion of a lecture.

His subject "The Three Internationalisms" dealt with the international spirit preceding the War, at the Treaty of Versailles, and that of the present and the future.

A topic of that kind cannot be reproduced by bits, as it is a logical deductioin from historical facts, leading to a definite conclusion.

He showed clearly that the trend of international relations is away from secret treaties between and among diplomats, to the ideals expressed by the late President Wilson, "Open Covenants, openly arrived at," and that these covenants must embody the spirit of the "Golden Rule."

The Campbell Chorus under the direction of Prof. Halamicek, repeated the numbers which they sang on Feb. 22, and the program committee wish to publicly express their appreciation and that of the club for this addition to the success of the evening.

PUNDITAS ENJOY GOOD PROGRAM

The Pundita Circle had a most interesting meeting last week at the home of Mrs. G. W. Burrow. The program was devoted to Child Welfare and Mrs. T. H. Corning read a well prepared paper on that topic.

Mrs. Josephine Rogers, who is head of the Child Welfare Researcch work of California was the speaker of the afternoon.

A niece of the hostess favored the ladies with a piano number and others were played on the phonograph.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Standish and Mrs. T. H. Corning.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. F. O. La Montagne on Union Ave.

PLAYING PURITANS

"Purple and Fine Linen" the play chosen by the Seniors of Campbell Hi will be given Friday night, March 14, at the Campbell Union Grammar School. This play will be a big success and is supported by a talented cast. Most of the pupils have had a former experience and under the direction of Miss Claribel Boesch are doing some fine character work. There is real worth in this play and it should be royaly supported by everyone. The tickets will be on sale in a few days and when asked to buy a ticket be right there with a smile and your fifty cents. See a real good production of home talent next Friday, the 14th.

MRS. WILSON ILL

Mrs. M. J. Wilson, who has been ill for several weeks has been having X-ray pictures taken this week and her many friends hope that conditions may be found which will yield to treatment. Her condition is considered rather serious and her daughters, Mrs. Miracle, Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. Hoerler of Los Gatos, have the sympathy of the community in their days of anxiety.

QUARANTINE EFFECTS LOCAL HATCHERIES

The quarantine established by other states against California on account of the Foot and Mouth disease has affected the local hatcheries.

One shipment of 500 baby chicks to Utah were not allowed entry and Mr. Ohlen was notified as to what disposition should be made of them. The distance made it impossible to have them returned so the whole shipment was drowned.

G. M. Ellison had 150 returned to him having been on the road four days, and only two died. He was able to dispose of them locally so they were not a loss.

As the greatest markets for baby chicks are Nevada, Utah, and other neighboring states, and the season at its height, the hatchers are pretty hard hit.

Arizona Copper Mine Has Steepest Incline

The Shannon incline, which is used to handle ore at copper mines in Arizona, is a notable piece of mechanical construction. It has a length of 1,500 feet and a vertical drop of 800 feet. It is said to be the steepest incline anywhere.

One of the difficult problems met with in mining in many places is the transportation of ores and supplies up and down mountain sides. Some of the most valuable mines are not infrequently situated far up the side of a mountain. It may be impracticable or impossible to bring the ore down by ordinary methods of transportation, such as wagons or trucks or upon the backs of burros. In such event the only solution of the problem is to build aerial tramways or inclines.

Now the Shannon incline is built of 35-pound steel rails. The track consists of five parallel rails. It has a 40-inch gauge, upon which the ore skips operate, and a 20-inch gauge for the small supply trucks. Special attention was given to providing a solid roadbed and in laying large, sound ties in the construction of the road. The ties are six by ten inches in size. The two ore skips are operated by gravity.

Star Was Once Called Center of Universe

Alcyone, the brightest star of the Pleiades, equals in brightness the star Zeta. It was at one time fancifully pictured as the center of the universe by the astronomer Madler, but this was merely a speculation for which there is absolutely no foundation. The Pleiades form, in fact, a moving cluster of stars of 200 or more members, and its principal stars are associated with a nebula of vast size. There is no reason to believe that our sun with his family of planets is moving around this or any other center in the universe. It has been estimated that the distance of the Pleiades from the solar system is over 300 light years, or, in other words, that the light from this cluster takes over 300 years to travel to the earth. We see these stars today as they were before the Pilgrim fathers landed in America.—Nature Magazine.

5. The creation of private capital furnished by diversified enterprises of a substantial financing corporation to assist in the work of tiding over agricultural and livestock sections until such time as they are on their feet.

Big Job

A clergyman, seeking to introduce some new hymn books, gave the clerk a notice after the sermon. The clerk had a notice of his own to give with reference to baptism of infants. At the close he announced: "All those who have children they wish baptized, please send in their names at once."

The clergyman, who was deaf, assuming that the clerk was giving his notice, arose and said: "And I want to say for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may be obtained from me any day, between two and four o'clock, the ones with the red backs at 25 cents and the ordinary little ones at 15 cents."

Find Statue 5,000 Years Old

A royal statue 5,000 years old is one of the many rare relics unearthed by excavations recently made on the site of Ur in Mesopotamia, the home town of Abraham's ancestors. The statue was dug up in the ruins of a temple dedicated to the moon god, whose worship was observed there for probably 4,000 years. It is a figure of Entemena, king of Lagash, who lived about 2900 B. C. What he looked like is impossible to discover as the head of the statue is missing. Records show the temple to have been rebuilt in 2300 B. C., after many centuries of use. It was remodeled by Nebuchadnezzar and again by Cyrus the Great in the Fifth century B. C. This was probably the last alteration as less than a century later the Persian fire-worshipers destroyed all the temples and images of the ancient idolatrous religion.

No Smokeless Explosive

The geological survey says that there are no absolutely smokeless explosives. There is always a little vapor present even in compressed air. Smokeless powder is simply smoke-weak powder giving very much less smoke than black gunpowder. Though smokelessness is the characteristic that has attracted attention to such powders, their superior power is important. While black gunpowder imparted to the projectile an initial velocity of 1,700 feet per second, initial velocities of over 3,000 foot-seconds have been attained with smokeless powders. This has compelled fighting modern battles in open order and at long range and has made necessary an increase in thickness and resistance in the armor of battleships.

In his opening statement to the jury in the murder trial of Elizabeth Potegain at Fresno the defense counsel admitted Mrs. Potegain put ant powder in a stew served to the family and of which she ate, but declared Margaret Potegain, the victim, came to her death from natural causes. Mrs. Potegain became remorseful after poisoning the stew and mixed a mint beverage as a remedy and the family all drank of it.

Enlargement of the Rossevelt Sequoia national park by absorption of approximately 450 square miles of public lands has been agreed upon by the departments of agriculture and interior. The plans of congress to enlarge the Sequoia national park and to change its name to Rossevelt National park have been held up by disagreement between the two departments that control the lands involved.

Mrs. E. R. Kennedy presented a summary of the expenses and income from the Library building and a rough estimate of a budget. The sum total necessary to be raised to pay taxes, insurance, running expenses, upkeep and all is quite a staggering sum, so that the subject of ways and means is an important one.

Motley H. Flint, executive vice president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, in his address to the regional conference at the southern metropolis on bank advertising, stamped appropriations for all advertising with the title of "investment." Out of a list of six mediums, the newspaper was given first place, as the best to "reach the innermost circle of our present-day civilization."

As Ye Think

A man of absolute integrity recognizes honestry when he sees it, because he has it. To every honorable deed for which the cynic can account only on selfish grounds, he attributes the same motive that would have prompted him to its performance. When we have proved the essential worth of domestic faithfulness and neighborly good will in our own experience, it is not difficult to believe that others are practising the same virtues because they are equally dear to them. All things that are clean and unselfish in the lives of our associates are best perceived by us when we look at them with pure and kindly eyes. To show the importance of this requires no argument. We all know that any satisfying friendship or affection must be founded on a mutual respect. If God were left out of the question, it would still remain true that the pure in heart are blessed, since they alone perceive in other lives those virtues a belief in which is so essential to our own happiness.

Uncommon Sense — By JOHN BLAKE

WATCH YOUR STEP

AMBITION is necessary to success. But unless your particular ambition is attainable, it will only be a trouble to you.

A boy who is stone deaf may aspire to be a great violinist, but he never will be.

A youth with no eye for perspective or sense of the beautiful may toil his life away trying to paint, and produce only worthless daubs.

The mountain climber who wants to get to the top of a peak does well to select a mountain that can be climbed.

He may discover after he is well up one height, that no further progress is possible.

It will be slow, wearisome work descending and beginning the slow, laborious ascent of another mountain. But unless he is willing to do that he will never be a success as a mountain climber.

Few men get the right start in life at the beginning. Most of us discover at some time or other that the way we are traveling is the wrong way, and that it will lead us to no worth while destination.

The thought of going back and beginning all over again is staggering. But there is no other way, if we mean to succeed.

Be as careful as you can in picking your career in the beginning. With your own judgment and knowledge of yourself, and with all the advice you can get, choose a vocation that you are fitted for.

But, if it so happens that you have chosen wrong, don't be afraid to descend that particular mountain and start up another that has a clear trail to the top.

It will be hard work—much harder than starting right in the first place. But it must be done.

And do not count the effort that appears to have been thrown away as wasted. The work that you put into the first vocation, while it may not directly contribute to later success, will have sharpened your faculties and trained your mind.

And because you have done it, and because it has taught you how to work, the tasks that must be done to bring you to success will be far easier than they would have been if you had never tried at all.

Festival Jubilee

The silver jubilee this month of the Saratoga Blossom festival will be the crowning of 25 years of annual festivals, conceived in 1899 and successfully carried out year after year, beginning March 20, 1900, by the residents of Saratoga. It has always been a distinctly Saratoga festival and it will be equally so this year. That it may be more widely known and attract still more thousands of people from all parts of the country to see the panorama of beautiful blossoms, the valley communities are co-operating with enthusiasm and the Los Gatos and San Jose Chambers of Commerce are assisting in every way possible. Col. R. N. Hayden, J. U. Higinbotham and Dr. R. L. Hogg, the Saratoga committee, and Wendell C. Thomas, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Cad. Reed, chairman of the parade committee, are highly gratified with the co-operation of the various cities and towns, which are preparing to enter floats representing their respective communities for the big community parade. Dr. Snyder, president of the State Teachers college, and his staff are working indefatigably on the immense pageant to be held on the college grounds and the Saratoga people are equally busy perfecting the biggest program ever put on there. The state societies are getting interested and already Washington and Wisconsin have announced that they will have floats in the parade.

Gorgeous Coronation

Far more beautiful than hereiditiary royalty and more romantic than the Queen of the May is the unknown queen who now lives somewhere in the Valley of Heart's Delight. Young men of the valley are laying wagers and young women are lying awake nights in anticipation of the announcement of the name of the queen. The queen and her court will occupy the royal box at the Saratoga Blossom festival March 22 and 23.

The coronation of the queen of the valley will open the Blossom festival on Thursday, March 20. The youthful queen will be crowned on the campus of the State Teachers college near the entrance at Fourth and San Antonio streets. Twenty-five hundred young women from the San Jose high school and the Teachers college will have parts in the colorful festivities and the coronation pageant. The queen to be is a Santa Clara county girl now attending the State Teachers college. She will be chosen by the college in a secret and mysterious way. She will be gowned by the studentbody of the college. The maids in waiting upon the queen will be the four adjudged to be the most beautiful and most graceful of the 1400 girls of the San Jose high school. Every city and community in the valley will be represented by a duchess, a lady-in-waiting and two gentlemen attendants, who will bring the allegiance of the neighboring towns and villages to the queen of the Valley of Heart's Delight.

Atmospheric Conditions Warn of Foul Weather

Sometimes when the air is extraordinarily clear and distant objects are visible with unusual sharpness and sounds come from afar with startling distinctness, it is a warning of foul weather. Then it is

When the peacock loudly bawls
Soon we'll have both rain and squalls.

Under these atmospheric conditions the songs and cries of birds sound loud to the ear. The barking of dogs, the lowing of cattle, the whistles of locomotives, the honking of motor horns, come from far away, whence sounds are not commonly heard. To the eye the difference of visibility from the ordinary may be likened to the contrast between a view through a pane of ordinary window glass and that through one of plate glass. The reason is that during the occurrence of a warm southerly wind at a moderate height, a condition usually preceding a storm, a stratus cloud is likely to cut off the sun's heating from the ground and so prevent irregularities in heating and also to permit the surface air to remain cool. The result is a homogeneous lower atmosphere through which light and sound waves travel without local disturbance. The sound waves are further intensified at a distance from their source by a phenomenon very common on a quiet morning after a clear night when the air close to the surface is cooler than that a few hundred feet aloft. There is a concentration of the waves. In the warmer air at a moderate height the sound waves travel faster than in the lower colder air, so those that ascend are bent back to earth and combine with those that travel the normal straight course, thus intensifying the sound in the listener's ears.
